WHAT IS HOMOEOPATHY?

Homoeopathy (sometimes written “Homeopathy”) is a 200-year-old form of alternative medicine that works by stimulating a healing response and thus strengthening the body’s ability to heal itself. It is a holistic system of medicine based on the theory of treating ‘like with like’.

Homoeopathy stimulates the body’s own healing response to disease by using specially prepared, highly diluted preparations called “remedies”. Homoeopathic remedies are natural and gentle - they are predominantly derived from plant, animal and mineral extracts.

Homoeopathy treats the whole person, taking into account personality, lifestyle and hereditary factors, as well as the history of the disease. Since all people are unique, homeopathic remedies are prescribed to treat individuals not symptoms. It then follows that two people presenting with the same complaint may receive a different remedy based on their individual symptoms and emotional response to the illness.

Homoeopathy can be used in a range of situations such as acute illnesses, chronic complaints as well as physical, mental and emotional difficulties.
